Southview pair advances

Vens brothers reach Division I state semifinals

WOOSTER, Ohio — During their initial trip together at the Division I state boys tennis tournament a season ago, the Southview doubles team of brothers Isaac and Landon Vens left believing nerves had played a role in sending them to an earlier-than-hoped-for Their performance during the first day of their return trip Thursday at the College of Wooster showed just how far they've come in not only mental toughness but in stamina.

Isaac, a senior, and Landon, a sophomore, are headed to a state semifinal today against the Springboro team of senior Drew Baumgartner and sophomore Peyton Nelson after winning their first two state matches. New Albany seniors Abhinav Dandu and Jackson Clements and the Canton GlenOak duo of senior Dylan Wiles and sophomore Jack Slay will play in the other semifinal match.

"Last year we were really nervous being here, just lots of nerves," Landon Vens said. "I didn't play my best. Last year, too, we looked ahead and slipped a little bit in the second round. This year, I thought we played very confidently and very well. It was a great way to start off the tournament for sure."

Isaac Vens is making his third state appearance after reaching a quarterfinal in singles in 2023.

Last season, he teamed with his brother to win their first state match before losing in the second round.

They've won all nine of their doubles matches this postseason, beginning with a 6-0, 6-0 win over sophomore Owen Hawley and junior Luca Milicki from Upper Arlington in the first round.

Then in the second round, senior Henrique Sa and sophomore Zelin Shen from Hudson took the duo to the brink, winning the first set 6-1 before

NCAA looks to bigger bracket

Field could expand to 76

ASSOCIATED PRESS

ORLANDO, Fla. — NCAA President Charlie Baker said Thursday he sees value in expanding the NCAA tournament by a handful of teams and wants to reach a decision on the matter in the next few months.

Baker spoke during Big 12 spring meetings, where conference leaders are discussing everything from the multibillion-dollar revenuesharing House settlement to complexities brought on by the transfer portal and name, image and likeness compensation.

Baker discussed the idea of expanding from 68 teams to 72 or 76.

"We've had good conversations with CBS and WBD," Baker said, referring to Warner Bros. Discovery, whose holdings include the Turner networks that air NCAA tournament games. "Our goal here is to try to sort of get to either yes or no sometime in the next few months because there's a lot of logistical work that would be associated with doing this. If we were to go down this road, you just think about the opening weekends, who has to travel the longest, it gets compli-

The NCAA tournament expanded from 64 to 68 teams in 2011. The change introduced the First Four round, a set of pre-tournament games in which the four lowestseeded at-large teams and four lowest-seeded conference champions compete for spots in the traditional 64-team bracket.

Baker indicated that the current formula has flaws and said it would be beneficial to give more opportunities to worthy teams.

"If you have a tournament that's got 64 or 68 teams in it, you're going to have a bunch of teams that are probably among what most

Hard-throwing AW right-hander Owen Graf, who will pitch at Ohio State University, was a little bit stin-

In a game that took just 1 hour and 15 minutes to complete, Graf blanked the Wildcats on just two hits, striking out six batters and walking two in seven innings, lifting his season record to 7-1 and lowering his earned run average to 1.57.

Griffin still on heater with 65

Winner at Colonial gets off to sizzling start at Memorial

ASSOCIATED PRESS

DUBLIN, Ohio — Ben Griffin resumed the great play that brought him his first individual PGA Tour victory last week, hitting two shots in the water and still posting a 7-under 65 on Thursday in the Memorial on a course with rough as dense as a U.S. Open.

Griffin isn't taking victory laps after winning at Colonial. He just kept making birdies, along with an eagle on the par-5 seventh hole with a 3-wood into 12 feet. He led by two shots over Collin Morikawa, with Max Homa another stroke be-

Defending champion Scottie Scheffler wasn't at his best and still managed a 70, his 19th consecutive tournament in which he opened with a round

Griffin was playing so well that his two water balls — on the par-5 11th and par-3 12th — only led to bogeys when such mistakes punished so many other players.

"Yeah, a couple water balls — really need to go to the range and work on my game to clean that stuff up," Griffin said with a laugh.

He knew this was a good one. Muirfield Village was soft enough from rain the past two days that good scores were available provided shots came from the fairway, and not from rough that Justin Thomas had said was comparable to what they will face at Oakmont in the U.S. Open.

"Basically a U.S. Open we're playing," Keegan Bradley said. "I'm going to be playing backto-back U.S. Opens here. But the course is very fair, setup nice. Just a tough test."

The numbers bear that out, whether it was only 13 players who broke par in a gentle wind, or the eight players who made triple bogey on seven of the holes at Muirfield Village.

Griffin set the pace early by going out in 31, and then ran into a few problems with the water. He tried to reach the green on the 11th, came up short and into the water, and missed a 10-foot par putt. On the 12th, his tee shot bounced back down the slope into the water. He saved bogey with a 6-

But what a finish — a 15-foot birdie on the par-3 16th, a 12foot birdie on the 17th, and holing out from a little more than 50 feet up the ridge on the 18th for a third straight birdie.

"It was an incredible day," Griffin said. "Kind of building on what I was doing last week, making a ton of birdies, staying aggressive. This is one of the toughest golf courses we play on tour and you've got to be on your game to make birdies and give yourself a lot of looks."

Shane Lowry played alongside Griffin and had a 69, one of only six players to break 70.

It might not have felt that good the way Griffin was playing.

"I told him when we finished, 'Keep it going, things will turn around for you pretty soon," Lowry said with a smile. "He pretty much holed everything he looked at today. It was good. We bounced off each other, we all played really

"My 3 under doesn't look that great beside his 7 under, but 3 under is a good score out there on this course," he said.

"It's pretty difficult." Homa keeps trying to piece together his game that allowed him to reach No. 10 in the world when he played the Memorial last year. Now he is at No. 87 and faces a long week a tough test at Muirfield Village, $\bar{a}nd$ then 36 holes of U.S. Open qualifying Monday.

"I told my coach last night this is the best my swing has felt in a really long time. Then the whole game kind of felt like that," Homa said. "I didn't need to shoot a low number to validate that, but it just feels nice."

Nick Taylor had one of the 10 double bogeys — two others made triple bogey — on the par-3 12th, but the Canadian rallied with two birdies on his final three holes for a 69.

Scheffler won the PGA Championship and tried to get as much rest as he could ahead of Colonial, where he still tied

The Lions are 7-1 on the road and 5-3 at home. Toledo is 6-2 at home and 6-1 on the road.

The teams have played a couple of common opponents this season. Toledo played Wheeling seven times and went 4-2-1 vs the Nailers. TR went 3-3-0 against Wheeling.

Both teams played the Idaho Steelheads three times. Toledo went 1-1-1 vs. the Steelheads and TR was 2-0-1 against Idaho.

This is the Walleye organization's third appearance in the Kelly Cup Finals in their past five postseasons. Toledo is seeking its first ECHL championship since 1994.

This is the first time Trois-Rivières, which began competing in the ECHL in 2020-21, has reached the final round.

Here is a breakdown of the matchup to see which team has the edge

FORWARDS

The Walleye are explosive and balanced offensively. Toledo averaged 3.25 goals per contest in the regular season and scored 3.60 in the playoffs.

Trois-Rivières, which has excelled on the power play, averaged 3.49 goals per game and is now 2.88 in the playoffs.

Toledo is led by ECHL MVP Brandon Hawkins, who led the league in scoring (89 points in 70 games) during the regular season. Hawk finished with 37 goals and 52 assists.

The line of Hawkins, Tyler Spezia, and Trenton Bliss has been one of the most productive in the ECHL. Spezia finished third on the team in scoring with 57 points in 51 games despite suffering a late-season injury. Bliss had 42 points in 57

Hawkins and Bliss rank first and second in ECHL playoff scoring with 22 and 20 points, respectively.

The return of forward Mitch Lewandowski from injury should provide a jolt for the Walleye. Lewandowski finished second on the team with 61 points in 58 regular-season games and has 11 in the playoffs. Rookie Colby Ambrosio also has surged offensively and has 11 points.

TR is led in the playoffs by forwards Alex Beaucage (14 points), Anthony Beauregard (12), Xavier Cormier (12), and Chris Jandric (11). In the regular season, Beauregard led the team in scoring with 67 points followed by Cormier (60) and Jakov Novak (57).

Toledo converted on 25.1 percent of its chances and TR finished at 24.5.

■ Edge: Toledo

DEFENSEMEN The Lions are stingy and strong defensively. TR leads the ÉCHL in goals against (1.63 per game) in the playoffs. The Lions gave up 2.58 goals per game during the Toledo yielded 2.69 per game in the regular season and has given up 2.60 per game during the postseason.

Walleye defenseman Jalen Smereck leads all ECHL d-men in playoff scoring with 12 points in 15 games. Smereck ranked fifth on the team in scoring during the regular season (46 points in 70 games).

Toledo defenseman Matt Anderson also has an offensive knack with nine points in 15 playoff games, while rookie Dylan Moulton (8 points) and Colin Swoyer (7) also have been productive.

TR's penalty kill has been slightly better in the playoffs. Also in the postseason, TR has allowed 28.88 shots on goal per game and Toledo is yielding 27.40.

■ Edge: Even GOALTENDING

The Lions have relied heavily on one No. 1 starter, Luke Cavallin. The Walleye have alternated starts in net between Jan Bednar and rookie Carter Cavallin earned All-ECHL second-team honors after posting a 19-10-1 record and a 2.13 goals-against average during the regular season. He also finished with a league-high .929 save percentage.

Bednar posted a 23-8-5 record and ranked seventh in the ECHL in goals-against average (2.34) during the regular season with four shutouts and a .914 save percentage. Gylander (20-9-4 regular season) had a goals-against average (2.61) with two shutouts and a .907 save percentage.

In the playoffs, Bednar is 6-2 with a 2.52 goals-against average and a .908 save percentage. Gylander is 6-1 with a 2.59 goals-against average and .902 save percentage.

Mikesch has a 92-31-20 overall record in the regular season with back-to-back regular season Central Division titles.

Mikesch, who came to Toledo from Green Bay of the USHL, spent seven seasons (2004-11) as an assistant coach at Michigan Tech University. The former forward, who is originally from Hancock, Mich., played for Michigan Tech from 1992-96 and then in eight seasons of pro hockey in the AHL, IHL, ECHL, and Germany.

Trois-Rivieres coach Ron Choules, who is in his second season at the helm, earned a two-year extension at the end of the regular season through the 2026-27 season. He led the Lions to their first division title. Choules finished second in coach of the year behind South Carolina's Jared Nightingale. He has a 76-49-16 record in the regular season.

Choules has more than 15 years of experience, including in the Quebec Major Junior Hockey League (QMJHL). A former 12th-round selection of the NHL's Toronto Maple Leafs in 1983, the forward played in the QMJHL, AHL, and IHL.

OVERALL

TR has strong special teams play, while the Walleye have been at their best in 5-on-5

Both teams are 7-3-0 in their past 10 games.

The key for both teams will be which gets out of the gates quicker — both within the series and within each game. Toledo is 8-0 when scoring first, TR is 12-2 when scoring first. The 2-3-2 format makes it imperative for the Walleye to continue their solid play at the Huntington Center.

The Walleye look to continue to get balanced scoring while the Lions look for Cavallin to continue his stingy play.

As often is the case in the playoffs, special teams play, goaltending performance, and consistency in all zones will be the keys to victory.

New York's Karl-Anthony Towns scores during Thursday's Game 5 of the Eastern Conference finals against Indiana in New York.

Knicks prevent Pacers from clinching series

Indiana's Haliburton mostly kept in check

NEW YORK — Jalen Brunson scored 32 points, Karl-Anthony Towns added 24 points and 13 rebounds despite a bruised left knee, and the New York Knicks stayed alive in the Eastern Conference finals by beating the Indiana Pacers 111-94 Thursday night in Game 5.

The Knicks won on their home floor for the first time in the series and prevented the Pacers from earning the second NBA Finals trip in franchise history. Indiana will try again Saturday night at home.

Knicks fans chanted "Knicks in 7! Knicks in 7!" in the final minutes as New York extended its first trip to the conference finals since 2000 and kept alive hopes of becoming the 14th team to overcome a 3-1 deficit to win a series. No team has won a conference finals series after dropping the first two games at home.

Two nights after giving up 43 points in the first quarter, the Knicks held the Pacers to 45 in the first half and limited Tyrese Haliburton, who had 32 points, 15 assists and 12 rebounds Tuesday, to eight points and six assists.

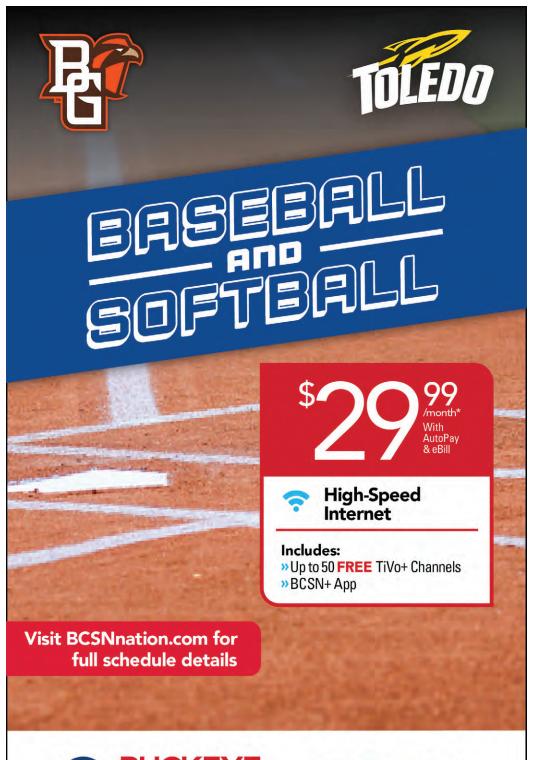

Brunson, outplayed by his point guard counterpart Tuesday, rebounded with his franchise-record 21st postseason game of 30 or more points with the Knicks.

Bennedict Mathurin had 23 points off the bench for the Pacers, who had won six straight road games. Indiana shot just 40.5 percent from the field in by far its lowest-scoring game of the postseason.

Brunson scored 14 in the first quarter as the Knicks held a 27-23 lead — giving up 20 fewer points than in the first quarter of Game 4, when they trailed 43-35.

Towns, who was questionable to play after hurting his left knee in a collision late in Game 4, picked up the slack with 12 in the second, when Brunson was scoreless.

Brunson came back with the Knicks' first eight of the third quarter as they opened a 20-point lead midway through the period. The Pacers cut that in half before New York regained control with a 12-0 burst, highlighted by Brunson's four-point play, to make

PHILADELPHIA - Chris Sale became the fastest pitcher to reach 2,500 strikeouts, pitched six scoreless innings, and the Atlanta Braves beat the Philadelphia Phillies 9-3 on Thursday night to split a double-

The Phillies won the afternoon game 5-4.
Sale (3-3) struck out Edmundo Sosa in the sixth inning for his eighth strikeout, to reach the milestone. He did it in 2,026 innings, surpassing the record of 2,107% set by Randy Johnson.

Sale became the 40th pitcher in major league history to reach 2.500 strikeouts and joined Clayton Kershaw, Justin Verlander, and Max Scherzer as the only active pitchers to have reached that plateau.

Sosa was the last hitter Sale faced. He allowed just two hits in six

Austin Riley had a double, a homer, and four RBIs, Ozzie Albies homered and drove in three, and Luke Williams had a pair of RBIs for the Braves, who snapped a three-game losing skid. Zack Wheeler (6-2) allowed six runs in 5½ innings for the Phillies, who lost for just the second time in their last 13 games.

After the game, the Phillies acquired left-hander Josh Walker from Toronto for cash considerations. Walker goes on the Phillies' 40-man roster, but will be assigned to Triple-A Lehigh Valley.

José Berríos (2-2) and two relievers combined on a four-hitter as the Blue Jays recorded their second straight shutout and fourth of the season. All four have come since May 20. The Athletics have lost three straight and 14 of 15, getting outscored

The A's have been outscored by 101 total runs this season. They've lost by 10 or more runs an MLB-worst seven times.

Vladimir Guerrero, Jr., hit a two-run homer and George Springer added a solo shot for Toronto. Alejandro Kirk reached base four times, scored twice, and drove in a run with a sacrifice fly.

The A's have allowed at least one home run in 11 consecutive games, giving up 25 total homers in that span. Athletics opponents have hit 84 home runs this season Berríos struck out nine in six innings to win for the first time since April 7 at Boston. Athletics left-hander Jacob Lopez (0-3) allowed seven runs and six hits in 13/3 innings, his third straight losing start. Position player Willie MacIver handled the final inning for the A's, throwing pitches that averaged around 40 mph.

The Athletics have lost 12 of their past 16 games in Toronto, dating to 2019. They're 9-24 there since 2014. RAYS 13, ASTROS 3: In Houston, Junior Caminero homered and drove in a career-high six RBIs to lead the Tampa Bay Rays to a win over the Houston Astros

The game was tied 3-all with no outs and two on in the seventh when Yandy Díaz's RBI single put the Rays on top. Tampa Bay made it 5-3 when Jonathan Aranda reached and Díaz scored on a fielding error by first baseman Victor Caratini. Caminero then connected off Bryan King (3-1) on his 11th homer this season to push the lead to 8-3.

The 21-year-old Caminero, who finished a triple shy of the cycle, drove in two more runs on a double in Tampa Bay's five-run eighth that Jose Altuve and Yainer Diaz hit solo homers for the Astros, whose four-game winning streak was halted. Altuve tied it at 3 with his shot to left-center field off Shane Baz with no outs in the sixth. It's the third home run in three games for Altuve, who went deep twice Tuesday night.

The Rays took an early lead when Diaz drove in a run on a sacrifice fly in the first inning.
Simpson walked to start the fourth and stole second base. He swiped third after a strikeout by Kameron Misner and scored on the play on a throwing error by Diaz, making it 2-0.

Madris' walkoff slam powers Mud Hens

A Bligh Madris walkoff grand slam in the bottom of the ninth inning helped the Toledo Mud Hens secure a 7-4 victory over the Louisville Bats on Thursday at Fifth Third Field.

It was the Mud Hens fifth straight win and 11th triumph in their past 13 games.

Toledo (30-24) loaded the bases with one out in the ninth when Akil Baddoo walked, Brewer Hicklen was hit by a Yosver Zulueta pitch, and Ryan Kreidler walked, all leading up to Madris' at-bat where he sent the ball over the fence in left field.

The Hens' dramatic comeback win came after they lost the lead in the top of the ninth. Louisville (24-29) took a 4-3 ad-

The Hens then made good on another Jones triple in the fourth. He led off the inning with the three-bagger, and scored thanks to Baddoo's sacrifice fly for a 3-1 advantage.

Tigers catcher Rogers focused on keeping wins coming, not his reduced playing time

By CHRIS McCOSKY

DETROIT — Jake Rogers hasn't been Wally Pipp'd, although it might feel like it.

Rogers, the Tigers' primary catcher down the stretch and into the postseason last year, made just his second start this week since returning off the injured list May 20.

And he understands perfectly well why.

"That player is playing incredible baseball," Rogers said. "He's hitting well, he's catching well, he's earned that right to play."

That player, of course, is Dillon Dingler. Dingler enters this weekend's series with a 1.4 WAR, second highest among American League catchers, has a plus-5 defensive runs saved and an OPS+ of 112.

"I'm just getting into the swing of things, getting into my routine," Rogers said. "Whatever I can do [for Dingler] and for the team and play whenever they tell me to, that's what I will do. It's fine. [Dingler] is doing incredible and I hope he keeps playing like that.'

Manager A.J. Hinch called Rogers into his office last week. Probably not to explain who Wally Pipp was (he was the Yankees' first baseman who showed up with a headache one day and was replaced permanently by Lou Gehrig). But, as Hinch put it, he wanted to explain to Rogers that "he wasn't going to not Jake Rogers, the Tigers' primary catcher down the stretch and into the postseason last year, returned from the injured list May 20.

"We're a year removed from Jake being the guy get-ting the opportunity," Hinch said. "He's going to get tons of games. Last year Jake caught so much because we trusted him so much. Just because Dillon had done well, it doesn't mean we trust Jake less or we expect less out of him."

Rogers knows it's a long season, and catcher is a demanding position mentally and physically. It takes two strong catchers, at least, for a contending team to get through a

"It's fine," he said. "I'm going to get my reps. That's how it's always been. You can't overlook what he's done. Look, I want to play. I don't want to sit on the bench. But at the same time, we're winning and he's doing well.

'You have to respect that." Hinch appreciates Rogers' perspective. But he would have been shocked and saddened if he took it any other

"We've got a group of guys in the clubhouse who are all in," Hinch said. "When Jake gets his opportunity, he's the same guy. When he doesn't get an opportunity, he's the same guy.

"That consistency is indicative of a really healthy clubhouse that cares about winning and cares about where we're at. It's a good luxury to have both of those guys.'

Guardians sound cautiously optimistic about Kwan

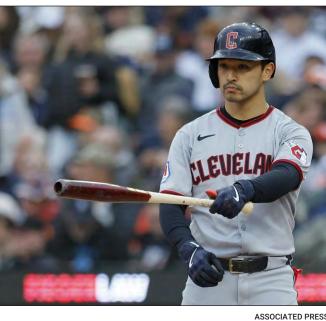

By JOE NOGA CLEVELAND.COM

CLEVELAND — Guardians manager Stephen Vogt sounded cautiously optimistic about Steven Kwan's injury status following Cleveland's 7-4 comeback win against the Dodgers on Wednesday at Progressive Field.

In his postgame comments, Vogt told reporters that Kwan "should be good to go" when Cleveland opens a three-game weekend series against the Angels on Friday.

Kwan experienced discomfort in the wrist during a swing earlier in the game, and the decision was made to take him out before the start of the fourth inning.

Nolan Jones replaced Kwan in left field and in the leadoff spot in Vogt's lineup, going 3for-3 with a two-run single in the eighth that tied the score at 4 and set the stage for Angel Martinez's go-ahead three-run home run off Los Angeles lefty Kwan, 27, was 0-for-2 with a pair of ground outs in the first two innings.

He bounced out on the first pitch he saw to end the second.

Kwan missed 23 games in May, 2024, with a left hamstring strain and two weeks in September with mid-back inflammation.

Kwan ranks among American League leaders in plate appearances per strikeout (second, 10.5), hits (fifth, 66), batting average (fifth .314), multi-hit games (tied for sixth, 19), and is tied for the major league lead in outfield assists with six.

Phillips was a key component of the eventual World Series champions' bullpen last year, and he earned 42 saves over the past two seasons.

TENNIS: FRENCH OPEN

Gauff gets breaks to overcome serve

PARIS — Coco Gauff kept getting herself in some trouble with shaky serving in the French Open's second round, and she kept putting herself back in position to win by breaking right back Thursday.

The second-seeded Gauff, pursuing her first title at Roland-Garros, eliminated 172nd-ranked qualifier Tereza Valentova of the Czech Republic 6-2, 6-4 in 75 minutes on a partly cloudy, warm afternoon in Court Suzanne-Lenglen.

Amid a soundtrack of sirens from nearby streets and roars from nearby courts, 2023 U.S. Open champion Gauff only managed to produce 11 winners, five fewer than her far-less-experienced opponent. Gauff also finished with 23 unforced errors, a total that included a half-dozen double-faults.

Against Valentova, an 18year-old who won the junior title at the French Open last year and was competing in the main draw at a major tournament for the first time, Gauff got broken five times. Four of those came in the second set — and each time, the 21-year-old Floridian managed to immediately rebound to claim Valentova's very next service game.

"There is a sense of urgency after getting broken, for sure. You don't want to get too far behind. You don't want to get two breaks down. You can live with one break. But she's definitely got to serve better and do a better job of holding as the tournament progresses," said Gauff's father, Corey. "She's probably been one of the best returners of serve on the tour the last two to three months. But that's not what you want. You want to hold first, for sure. It's not really a break until you hold."

Other winners in the women's bracket included No. 3 Jessica Pegula, who was the runner-up at last year's U.S.

Open, Australian Open champion Madison Keys, 18-year-old Mirra Andreeva, and 2023 Wimbledon champion Marketa Vondrousova, who reached the 2019 final at Roland-Garros.

Vondrousova, who is unseeded this year, eliminated No. 25 Magdalena Frech 6-0, 4-6, 6-3 on Court 6.

In men's play, No. 1 Jannik Sinner ended the career of 38year-old Richard Gasquet by beating the Frenchman 6-3, 6-0, 6-4. No. 3 Alexander Zverev and No. 14 Arthur Fils won, while 24-time major champion Novak Djokovic took a medical timeout to deal with a bothersome toe but eliminated Corentin Moutet in three sets.

In the day's final match, No. 5 seed Jack Draper of Britain erased a couple of set points that would have forced a fifth and held on to defeat French showman Gael Monfils 6-3, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5 across more than three hours under the lights in Court Philippe-Chatrier.

McDavid, Oilers going back to Final

DALLAS — McDavid had a breakaway goal and an assist, 40-year-old Corey Perry scored again, and the Edmonton Oilers are going to their second Stanley Cup Final in a row after beating the Dallas Stars 6-3 on Thursday night in Game 5 to wrap up the Western Conference final.

Edmonton scored on its first two shots, and jumped ahead 3-0 in the first 8:07 on way to eliminating the Stars in the West final for the second year in a row.

The Oilers now get another rematch, against defending Stanley Cup champion Florida after a seven-game series last June. Game 1 is Wednesday night in Edmonton.

Mattias Janmark, Jeff Skinner, Evander Kane, and Kasperi Kapanen also had goals for Edmonton, the last being an empty-netter in the closing seconds. Leon Draisaitl and Jake Walman each had two Jason Robertson scored twice and Roope Hintz had a goal for the Stars, who ended their season in the West final for the third year in a row. Wyatt Johnston and Thomas Harley each had two assists.

Dallas was down 3-2 when Harley had a one-timer blocked by Mattias Ekholm, the Oilers defenseman playing for the first time this postseason. Oilers captain McDavid gathered the long ricochet well past center ice and beat goalie Casey DeSmith with 5:32 left in the second period.

DeSmith had taken over in net after starting goalie Jake Oettinger was pulled following Janmark's goal that made it 2-0 only 7:09 into the game.

Edmonton goalie Stuart Skinner had 14 saves. DeSmith, who hadn't played since April 26 in Game 1 of the first round against Colorado, stopped 17 of 20 shots.

"He's a hard worker, the kids believe in him, and he believes in himself. It was a great performance. We knew it was going to be a tight ball game, and we needed that type of moment from him, and he delivered like he always does."

Graf, whose fastball touched 91 mph, threw 62 of his 97 pitches for strikes in helping the Generals reach their third regional in four years under Donley.

After three scoreless innings, AW got the only run it needed in the bottom of the fourth.

Max Crandell led off with a single to right-center, advanced on a sacrifice bunt from Ben Nieckarz, moved to third on Jett Smith's infield single, and scored on Crue Carroll's fielder's-choice groundout.

"Being able to throw over the plate and having a good defense behind me is really a confidence booster," Graf said, "because I don't have to pitch to strike everybody out. I can just pitch to get outs.

"My boys came to play today. It was a close game pretty much the whole way. We got the first run and that was big, that was a confidence booster."

Anthony Wayne was otherwise held in check by Schantz (3-5, 2.39 ERA), who scattered six hits in six innings, throwing 51 of his 65 pitches for strikes. He struck out two Generals batters, both in the first inning, and walked one batter.

Schantz stranded two AW runners in the second and third innings, escaping a bases-loaded iam in the third on an impressively-turned, inning-ending 4-6-3 double play. Wildcats shortstop Connor Draper barehanded the feed from second baseman Colin Tomanski and fired to first baseman Charlie Paulson, who scooped the relay out of the dirt to keep the Generals off the scoreboard.

But the Generals broke through an inning later, and held on to return to regionals.

"There's not much to say," Northview coach Aaron Tullis said in breaking down the loss. "Owen Graf is a special talent, and he pitched a great game today. You have to be able to scratch a run out, and defensively they made every play.

were the better team today."

Earlier this season, AW and Northview (15-12) split their two NLL matchups, with the Wildcats winning 3-2 at home on April 28 and the Generals winning 7-4 at home the next day.

"Nick's been great all year," Tullis said of Schantz. "He's a warrior, he works hard, and he scraps. He's going to have a successful college career because he's a bulldog and he throws strikes."

Added Donley: "Nick Schantz is a great pitcher. He's got good movement, and he mixes pitches well. We were putting good at bats on him, but you've got to cash in against a good guy like him. Manufacturing runs is what you have to do in the tournament, and I was proud of my guys for doing that today."

AW lost in a D-I regional semifinal to Northview in 2022, the year the Wildcats became the first NLL team to win a state baseball title. The Generals got to state themselves in 2023 before falling in the semis. AW was also the D-I state runner-up in 2018.

The champions of the NLL's Buckeye Division at 13-1 this season, AW will be joined at the regional level by NLL Cardinal Division winner Clay (18-9, 11-4), which beat St. John's Jesuit 3-1 in a D-II district final at Carter Park on Wednesday.

the Vens brothers bounced back to win the second and third sets, also by 6-1 scores.

"We're both good singles players, but we wanted to get back here one last time," Isaac Vens said. "Every match is competitive [at state]."

The Vens brothers were the only area players to win a state match, but Bryan senior Landon Bassett came close to moving out of the first round, as well.

In his opening match in Division II singles, Bassett lost to Cincinnati Seven Hills junior Adi Nayak 6-3, 4-6, 6-0.

He finished 23-5 this season and 84-19 for his prep career and will continue his playing career at Trine. Bassett also was a state qualifier a year ago.

"That was the goal coming I are the goal coming I in, just to give it everything I had, whether it was win or lose or play every point to the hardest, and I think I did that," Bassett said. "The first set was really tight, with a lot of long points. Even within the points, there were a lot of deuces. I just kept running out every ball because you never know, and that's what I did. Two other area players whose seasons are not completed are St. John's juniors Miles Green and Adam Darwich, who lot to the Upper Arlington duo of senior Jackson Lloyd and junior Keshav Goyal 6-2, 6-1 in the first round. Their seasons continue Saturday when the Titans compete in the state team tournament at Wooster.

Green and Darwich played doubles together as freshmen and have competed in tournaments together since that time.

"We definitely could have hit our serve targets better and put away our volleys more, but I don't think our ground strokes were really that bad," said Darwich, who played third singles while Green was at second singles during the regular season. "We just weren't aggressive enough at the start."

St. Francis de Sales senior Nick Miller, a three-time state qualifier and the district champion, lost 6-3, 6-3 to New Albany junior Tyler Thomas in the first round of Division I singles to finish 19-8.

He will compete in golf and tennis for Ohio Northern.

Also competing in Division I singles was Clay freshman Nathan Horvath, who lost to Marysville senior Gianni Russo 6-4, 6-2 in the first round.

"I just gave everything I had, and it was fun," Horvath said. "I thought I played pretty well, just had a couple missed opportunities which makes me feel like I played badly."

In Division II doubles, the Port Clinton duo of senior Blake Denno and junior Kai Weit lost to senior Michael Ryu and sophomore Neelan Gandhi of Cincinnati Indian Hill 6-0, 6-1 in the first round.

"The atmosphere was really great, just being around all these really good players,' Weit said. "This was the plan all along since before the season started and was what we wanted. I feel like my mental game got better this season, along with my consistency, staying in rallies, and hitting my ground strokes."

While Weit played second singles most of the season, Denno was at first singles.

"I'm just glad I made it to state," Denno said. "It was a good experience. I'm not mad at the way I played. It was unfortunate we got the fourth

PUBLIC NOTICE NOTICE OF SECOND PUBLIC HEARING

PY2025 COMMUNITY HOUSING IMPACT & PRESERVATION (CHIP) PROGRAM

The Lucas County Board of Commissioners intends to apply to the Ohio Department of Development (ODOD), on behalf of Lucas County and the Cities of Maumee and Oregon, as partnering jurisdictions, for funding of PY2025 Community Housing Impact & Preservation (CHIP) program activities under the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Small Cities Program and the Federal HOME Investment Partnership Program (HOME), both federally funded programs administered by the State of Ohio. The CHIP Application is due to the State by June 25, 2025.

On May 13, 2025, Lucas County conducted the first public hearing to inform citizens about the CDBG/HOME programs, how they may be used, what activities are eligible, and other program require-ments. Eligible CHIP activities for PY2025 include Rehabilitation and Repair Assistance; Homeownership Assistance; Tenant-Based Rental Assistance; Fair Housing; and General Administration.

Based on a County housing needs assessment, Lucas County and its partnering jurisdictions of Maumee and Oregon propose to undertake the following PY2025 CHIP activities within the CHIP Service Area: Private Owner Rehabilitation $609,000 (HOME); Owner Home/Building Repair $315,000 (CDBG); Fair Housing $8,000 (CDBG); and General Administration $118,000 $58,000 CDBG and $60,000 HOME). CHIP activities satisfy the Low-Moderate Income (LMI) National Objective. Lucas County, on behalf of its partnership including the cities of Maumee and Oregon, is apply-ing for a total of $1,050,000 to fund these activities. Housing Program Income (PI) is being committed to CHIP activities from all partnering jurisdictions.

A second public hearing will be convened on Monday, June 9, 2025, at 10:00 a.m. in the Lucas County Commissioners Hearing Room located on the 1st Floor of One Government Center, Toledo, OH 43604, to allow citizens the opportunity to provide input on the activities.

Should any participant require auxiliary aids due to disability or non-English languages, please contact Lucas County at 419-523-3656 at least one week prior to the hearing date to ensure needs will be accommodated. Anyone wishing to submit written comments prior to the hearing date may submit them to the Lucas County Board of Commissioners at the address given above.
